(a) Poitri :

Autumn Leaves

Autumn leaves begin to gently fall
As summer just fades away,
And blackberries from the hedgerow
Make a feast at the end of summer ball.

Golden leaves carpet the woodland floor
And the branches of the trees,
With colours ranging from gold leaf
To rustic copper is something to adore.

(b) Parom mutdur :

The Value of Time

Once upon a time, there was a young boy named Sam who loved to play all day and avoided his chores. One day, he met an old man who was busy planting seeds in his garden. Curious, Sam asked, "Why are you working so hard?". The old man smiled and said, "Time is like a river; it flows away and never returns. Every moment you waste is like a seed that will never grow."

Sam thought about it and realized he had been wasting his precious time. He decided to make each day count, balancing his fun with his responsibilities, years later, Sam became successful and happy, always grateful for the lesson he learned. He understood that time, once lost, could never be regained, and that each moment was a gift to be cherished.

Moral : Value time, and it will reward you. Using time wisely leads to success and happiness.
